

Dr. Cyril Wecht, Coroner

Dear Cyril,

I also heard from Hedgecock and wrote him again.

If I am here for the 35th anniversary, that will be fine. And there will be an abundance for publishing if there is what I do not expect, any interest in publication off fact about the assassination.

The orthopaedic surgeon decided against the hip replacement for my wife at this time because it will not eliminate all if indeed most of her pain.

I've just heard that Chris Groden is in terminal cancer and that she is also divorcing Robert.

She did a remarkable job, holding her family together and raising their children.

When they were first married they spent many weekends here.

That was when Robert first got that good print of the Zapruder film.

He did his original work on it for me.

Thanks for your good wishes.

Best,
